

Diane Amundson & ASSOCIATES

Diane Amundson is the owner of Diane Amundson & Associates. She has over sixteen years of training, speaking and consulting experience in the areas of generational diversity, team building, sales communication, conflict resolution, strategic planning and leadership coaching.

Diane has worked with Fortune 500 Companies like General Mills and Pepsi Cola and she has co-authored a book titled Success Strategies: A High Achiever's Guide to Success. She is a member of the National Speakers Association and has served as Adjunct Professor of Organizational Behavior at Winona State University.

She is a Rotarian that has traveled the world on humanitarian projects in Mongolia, India and Brazil. Her style of speaking is informative and highly interactive.

Diane Amundson & Associates offers many solutions for your business. Presentations are available on the following topics:

Team Building

Does working on a team create conflict and frustration for you? There are many components of a successful team that need to be addressed like communication style, goal setting and trust. Each of these elements is explored in depth so you will walk away better able to participate in or lead a team.

Generational Diversity

Each generation in the workplace wants to perform their best work and delight the customer. However, the values, beliefs and attitudes that were taught during their formative years has a great impact on how they perceive time, money, authority and technology. You will walk away from this presentation with the knowledge and tools to work more effectively with each generation.

Strategic Planning

In a highly competitive marketplace it is critical that organizations have a clear vision of where they want to go along with the specific steps on how they will arrive at that destination. This process will create a vision, mission statement, core values, strategic initiatives, long and short term goals. Everyone in your organization will be working towards the same outcomes for faster results.

Executive Coaching

Do you have someone at your organization that has the potential to be a great leader but is not living up to that potential due to behavioral issues? This thorough coaching process will help the leader change that destructive behavior and the perceptions of others on the team that need to work with this leader.

For More Information,
Please Contact:

