

KING HENRY V

King Henry V resumes the story of Prince Hal, the wayward youth, now England's King. A celebration of a popular, much loved English monarch as well as of the theatre itself, King Henry V provides a mesmerizing blend of action, warfare, romance, and humor as the young prince becomes a charismatic and inspiring leader. One of Shakespeare's most gripping and imaginative plays.

James Edmondson
(2012's King Lear)
directs.

intern/ apprentice project MACBETH

When the aging King Duncan names his eldest son, Malcolm, as possible successor to the throne, Macbeth and his ambitious wife take matters into their own hands. Their quest for power leads Scotland to the brink in this epic tale of bloodshed and the supernatural. Macbeth has a limited run. Tickets are general admission, $15. Rick Barbour will direct this 2013 Intern/Apprentice Company project.

Twelfth
Night or, what you will

Thought by many to be Shakespeare's best, deepest, and most moving comedy, Twelfth Night is a meditation on love and loss, and a boisterous, rollicking farce.

First produced by GRSF in 2006, 10th Anniversary Season audiences will return to Shakespeare's Illyria in a new and re-imagined production. GRSF Artistic Director Paul Barnes directs.
